Uncle Ruthie (r.) and friend

"My favorite aunt is an uncle. "Uncle Ruthie" Buell is the imaginative, velvet-voiced host of Los Angeles' only radio program for children, 'Halfway Down the Stairs.' Her delightful weekly show is conveniently scheduled on Saturdays from 10:30 - 11:30 a.m. on KPFK-FM. It is an adventure of songs and stories all done with love and care and an honest concern for the human condition.

Uncle Ruthie is an artist with enormous energy, which is evidenced by her live performances but is also carefully unleashed on radio through her expert storytelling. There is no feeling in life that remains untouched through her 10+ years on the air. She has a knack for sensitively exploring controversial topics and making them understandable to youngsters by using her vast knowledge of children's literature. Ruthie's shows each have a theme. She selects stories, poems or songs appropriate to that theme and weaves them into a tapestry of experiences which, when presented through the medium of radio, utterly excite the imagination.

It is tragic that there is not more of this quality children's programming available in such a large metropolitan area. It's also a shame that more people don't know about 'Halfway Down the Stairs' and its fun-loving, caring host who is, more than anything, a professional human being. Give a listen."

—The above was written by Dan Crow, a great children's songwriter and entertainer, and a frequent favorite guest on "Halfway Down the Stairs." There's really not much more to say about Uncle Ruthie except that . . .

—She's been with KPFK since KPFK began. She has done drama, documentaries and interviews, along with her present show. She grew up in Chicago, doing radio, stage, educational movies, modeling and even a little T.V. She has always been involved in professional theater and Reasonably Radical politics.

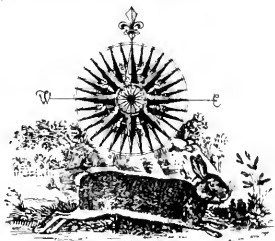

—She is a special education teacher, "at the best public school in L.A.", the Alphonso B. Perez Special Education Center.

—She is a songwriter currently working on an album of her own songs for kids and everyone else. She sings these and other songs and dramatizes stories with her audiences at concerts and shows she does in the L.A. area.

—She loves: long-distance running, sashimi, someone named Bruce, someone named Hathaway, children, & KPFK!

UNCLE RUTHIE CHILDREN'S MONTH SPECIALS

Uncle Ruthie celebrates Children's Month on July 23rd on Halfway Down the Stairs, presenting "Kids at the Crossroads." Talented junior-high and high-school students from the Crossroads School in Santa Monica will present, live, an hour of music including both classical and jazz, drama, poetry and general magic. Crossroads School for Arts and Sciences was founded in 1971 by a group of parents and educators interested in establishing a college-preparatory, coeducational school that would combine academic excellence with comprehensive fine and performing arts programs, community involvement, athletic challenge and environmental education.

"Kids at the Crossroads" airs Saturday, July 23 at 10:30 a.m.

"Halfway Down the Stairs" goes all the way downtown when Uncle Ruthie and many of her friends broadcast LIVE from the Children's Museum, 310 N. Main Street, on Saturday, July 30 at 10:30 a.m. Attend this exciting live broadcast and then spend some time in the most exciting building in L.A. Angeles.

The Children's Museum is a hands-on experience where children are involved in artistic activities such as making their own animated films, and tactile experiences in the form of a "Sticky City." Children can also produce their own television program in a real television studio run entirely by children.

There's so much at this museum that you'd better just come down and see it yourself, and play with Uncle Ruthie after the broadcast on Saturday, July 30, 10:30 a.m.

KPFK NEWSPERSON MICHEL BOGOPOLSKY CENSORED IN ISRAEL

KPFK Newsperson Michel Bogopolsky (co-producer of "Middle East in Focus") was recently in the Middle East. While visiting the town of Halhul on the Israeli occupied West Bank his cassette tape and 35mm film were seized by the Israeli Defense Forces. The occupation authorities objected to Michel conducting interviews with Israeli soldiers in the area without prior approval. The individual soldiers, however, did not object. Michel received the above note at KPFK on April 29. It is a handwritten communication from an IDF Major that accompanied the return of the roll of film and the cassette tape that were confiscated. But as the Major explains under Point Two, the Israeli authorities erased portions of the tape before returning it.

tional Conference of Christians and Jews, the camp brings together each week during the summer 200 black, white and latino teenagers, men and women, straight and gay, from a variety of religious and economic backgrounds. In their urban lives outside the camp they range from scholars to athletes to class presidents. In the camp, they confront in large groups and small rap sessions (under the direction of life-experienced counselors) their own and others' intense and often conflicting feelings about racial and sexual stereotypes, sexual relationships and their own place in the world.

Josh Hanighas directed and co-produced (w/ Dennis Hicks) the hour-long documentary, "Coming of Age" which closely follows the experiences and dramatically records the highlights of one group's week at camp. It is a powerfully explosive film which reflects the struggle, catharsis and human growth which thousands of others like them have experienced over the years at Camp Botherhood.

"Coming of Age" premiered at the Fall 1982 New York Film Festival, and was shown this April at Filmex in Los Angeles.

This special 1-hour radio documentary, co-produced by Sherry Novick and Bob Pugsley, features excerpts from the film's soundtrack, as well as from an interview which Pugsley conducted with the director, exclusively for KPFK.

This issue includes a financial report for the first seven months of this fiscal year. As indicated in last month's report, we are over budget in the expense categories of health insurance and telephone, and on budget with our income. This might all have been manageable, as our original budget projected a surplus of nearly $40,000, to be used for debt retirement. With a refinancing of our debt, we will be able to put off that retirement, except for $6,000 in our first mortgage. If you have any questions or comments on these figures, please write to me, or call "Report to the Listener" on the air, every Monday at 9:00 a.m.

But...

As we began our Spring Fund Drive in June our brand new transmitter and antenna went off the air. This disaster seems to have been the fault of a connector at the end of the Coaxial cable which connects to the antenna. The resulting malfunction burned the entire cable. The cost of replacement will be $9,000 for the cable, up to $3,000 for shipping, and a few thousand dollars for labor time for the tower riggers and our engineers. This could be more, if the antenna sustained any damage. Much of this should be covered by warranty, but we will not know for sure for a while, and probably some of it will not be covered. In addition, the disruption of our Fundraising takes an uncountable toll. As of this writing we are forced to return to fundraising even at low power to meet our immediate bills. By the time you read this, you will know the results.

We continue to ask for your help. It seems as though disasters bring out the best in people, and we are getting good support and coverage from the commercial media (a special thanks to KTTV Channel 11) and from the other Public Radio stations: KPCC, KUSC, KCRW, KCSN, KLON, KXLU, KCBS, and KPBS. We will survive with your continued support.

American Hero in El Salvador

Reprinted from Easy Reader, Hermosa Beach, California.

by Chris Norton

In the spring of 1982, a 36-year-old former Air Force captain put 75 pounds of medical supplies on his back and hiked three days to the rebel-held Guazapa volcano. He was guided through enemy lines by guerrilla escorts.

For the past year, Charlie Clements, an American physician, has worked and lived on the large volcano just 15 miles from San Salvador, the capital city.

Daily, the volcano is bombed and strafed. Dr. Clements uses an old kitchen table as his operating table. All medicines must be slipped past the government troops surrounding Guazapa. Yet Clements, back in the United States to raise money for medical supplies, described the rebel society as marked by hope.

Clements, whom I interviewed in Berkeley earlier this month, is from a solid military family—his father is a retired Air Force colonel; his older brother is also an Air Force officer. Clements himself followed in the family trade. He graduated second in his class at the Air Force Academy and flew C-130s in Vietnam in 1969 and 1970.

Clements, however, became disillusioned by the war. At first he believed that the United States had a moral obligation "to defend democracy" in Vietnam.

"But slowly I began to see that everything was a big lie, that the public was being deceived. We were bombing Cambodia for years when we said we weren't." Clements said.

The invasion of Cambodia in 1970 was "the straw that broke the camel's back." Clements refused to fly any more missions in Southeast Asia. The Air Force responded by sending him to a psychiatric hospital.

Finally he was discharged. It wasn't an easy time. The service, he said, "was everything I thought was right and had directed my life toward. Now it seemed to be an illusion."

For two years, Clements worked and traveled, "reading and thinking a lot." His life took two new directions. He became committed to non-violence, with Martin Luther King and Gandhi as his models, and he decided to become a doctor.

Clements returned to the United States and entered medical school at the University of Washington in Seattle.

In 1979, he was elected president of the 25,000-member American Medical Student Association, an organization with a $7 million budget.

Clements graduated in 1980 with a medical degree and a master's in public health. He finished his residency at the county hospital in Salinas, California.

Most of his patients were poor farm-workers, many of them Salvadoran refugees bearing the "psychological and physical scars of the government brutality."

Clements said he decided to go to El Salvador "as I was listening to myself speaking to a group, and I was describing the tremendous need for physicians and health care workers there (in El Salvador) and I was describing the situation in rural areas where health care didn't exist and . . . I realized that I was probably in a better position to serve than many other physicians."

The Guazapa volcano, where Clements found himself, is the site of a 15-square-mile guerrilla front. Despite 12 major offensives in two years, the government has been unable to dislodge the guerrillas from the volcano.

The 15 villages nestled on the volcano's flanks, however, are under constant attack. "I can't remember a day since July that the zone hasn't been hit by A-37 bombings, helicopter strafings or rockets from the Cessna trainers—and sometimes all three," Clements said.

"Any assembly of people, whether children in school or patients outside a clinic, where [there is] any sign such as diapers or bandages hanging out to dry, where many times [there is] even the smoke of a cooking fire, invites aerial attack."

With characteristic understatement, Clements described medical conditions on the Guazapa volcano as "difficult." Health conditions are bad for most Salvadorans; the per capita caloric intake is the lowest in the Western Hemisphere. Three-fourths of Salvadoran children suffer from malnutrition and nearly half die before the age of five, according to Clements.

On the volcano these conditions are compounded by the scarcity of medicine and the daily air attacks.

"Every aspirin, every piece of gauze, every pill is precious," Clements said.

"I count every urinary tract infection I can treat, every dose of antibiotics I can administer."

Clements rations out four aspirin tablets a week to arthritics. He also teaches them to make tea from willow bark and seeds to help relieve the pain.

Despite the hardships on the volcano, Clements said, the 10,000 people there form a "functioning society characterized by hope." There are more than 30 elementary schools, over a dozen clinics and two hospitals which provide free service.

Food is distributed equitably by agricultural collectives that were started by the Catholic Church. In good times, a meal consists of two tortillas and a half a cup of beans. In bad times, one tortilla is a meal.

While the people are almost always hungry, Clements said, there are no cases of the malnutrition so prevalent in the rest of the country because the available food is shared fairly.

Clements said that more people are coming to live on the volcano despite the government attacks, because they have heard of the cooperation practiced there. They would rather endure the air raids and periodic offenses, he said, than live in fear of torture and murder by government-controlled paramilitary gangs.

Clements disputes the Reagan Administration characterization of the guerrillas as terrorists who enjoy violence. Peasants reluctantly turned to arms when their agricultural cooperatives were attacked by "goon squads" organized by the rich landowners and the military, he said.

Clements, as a neutral noncombatant, is the liaison with the International Red Cross for returning soldiers captured by the guerrillas. The army, he pointed out, seldom takes prisoners.

Based on his contact with captured soldiers, Clements said he concluded the army will never defeat the guerrillas.

Most were young conscripts who were forced to fight. They told him that the family pictures of deserters were posted in barracks under the heading "killed in crossfire," a euphemism for being assassinated.

The soldiers told him that the army was very corrupt and that it was possible to buy your way out of patrol if you had enough money. Officers sell guns and ammunition to the guerrillas. Bullets cost a dollar each.

Many of the soldiers admitted that they participated in massacres of civilians, including women and children, Clements said. Those who showed any reluctance would be suspected of sympathizing with the guerrillas.

Soldiers told Clements they were instructed that "women are potential factories to produce more guerrillas and children are the seeds of guerrillas that need to be destroyed."

After seeing the rebel society first hand, two-thirds of the captured soldiers have chosen to stay on the volcano. Clements said that he thinks the percentage there is higher than on some other fronts.

One soldier wrote to his hometown pastor to explain why he was remaining on the volcano. The soldier, Clements said, wrote that he had experienced more Christianity on Guazapa than he had seen on the outside and that he felt compelled to stay and help the new society the guerrillas were trying to construct.

For more than two months Clements has been back in the United States, raising funds for his medical work on the volcano and describing what he has seen.

He raised $40,000 in just three weeks of house meetings and talks in the San Francisco Bay Area. He also visited New York and Seattle and planned to go on to Detroit, Chicago, Boston, Toronto and Philadelphia, despite recently being stricken with the malaria he contracted in El Salvador.

Clements has visited Washington to talk to congressmen, many of whom are appalled by the brutality of the Salvadoran regime yet fearful of what a guerrilla victory might bring.

Although his testimony was read into the "Congressional Record," Clements said he was dismissed by many legislators as a "guerrilla propagandist."

The former Air Force captain said he will return to El Salvador because, "I have a commitment to the people there and I have a commitment to be a witness for the American people."

Contributions to buy medical supplies can be sent to the Salvadoran Medical Relief Fund, c/o the Committee for Health Rights in El Salvador, P.O. Box 1405, Berkeley, CA 94704.

Your Subscription

The Computer.

Our computer is located in Santa Barbara. Your payment may not go into the computer as quickly as you might think because payments go to our lockbox and through the bank before they are fed into the computer. This process often takes more than a week from the time you send your payment. So, if you send your check by the 1st of the month, you may receive the Folio for the following month.

Bill Payment.

Always send a bill with your check! We cannot credit your account correctly unless we know exactly what your check is paying for. If you send a check for a pledge payment without a bill, you might get credit for a new subscription and still be billed for your original pledge.

First Class Folio Mailing.

The Folio is mailed Second Class, and should take 2 to 5 days to get to most places. Unfortunately, our experience has not been good, especially with outlying areas. First Class mailing is available for $10 extra per year (prorated at 85 cents per month for current subscriptions). If you get your Folio on time but would like to receive it well before the first of the month, you may want to get the First Class service.

I Didn't Get My Folio . . .

The Folio is mailed before the 24th of the month. If you have not received your Folio by the first of the month:

- 1) Check your subscription expiration date on the previous Folio mailing label (upper right hand corner of label).
- 2) Make sure you haven't moved without notifying us.
- 3) If you haven't moved and are currently enrolled as a subscriber, contact your local postmaster about delivery.
- 4) Send us a previous Folio label with an explanatory note and request a new Folio be sent to you.

Moving / Address Changes.

If you move, your Folio will not be forwarded unless you have requested Second Class forwarding from the Post Office. The best way to expedite an address change and assure continued receipt of the Folio is to contact us in writing 6 weeks before you move, giving us your name, old zip-code, and new address. There is an address form on the back page of the Folio that you can clip: it already has your current mailing label on its back. Always include your account number at the top of your Folio label for instant handling. Address changes that we get back from the Post Office cost us 25 cents apiece. Changes can take 8 weeks to affect your account.

Prisoner Subscriptions.

KPFK sends a free subscription to any prisoner upon request.

Cassette Folios for the Print Handicapped. The Folio is available on cassette (returnable) to all print handicapped subscribers. If you'd like to receive the Cassette Folio, please tear off the address label on the back of your Folio and send it along with a note (or you may call). Within 2 months, you'll be receiving your complete program guide on cassette. The cassettes are returned to us at the end of each month to be re-used.

Exchange Mailing Lists.

KPFK exchanges and rents its subscriber lists to other organizations of common interest (Channel 28, Ralph Nader, ACLU, etc.). If you don't want to be on exchange mailing lists, send your Folio label to the Subscriptions Department and ask for an "NJ" code. Your name will then be automatically excluded from all mailings except for the Folio and other communications from KPFK.

What exactly does

Earworks designs and installs musically satisfying home audio systems, or counsels you in your own equipment purchase. A housecall diagnosis and repair service is also available.

Discount stores are not good places to go for advice. Market pressures force them to recommend components for reasons that have nothing to do with how well they reproduce music. Earworks' principal stock-in-trade is information and know-how, wedded to a reliable sense of how real, live music sounds. Earworks isn't beholden to any manufacturer. We can't offer you discounts, but we can guide you toward the most musical system in your price range. If you wish, your system will be set up and voiced by a thoroughly experienced audio professional. Please call for more information.

KPFK Film Club

The KPFK Film Club holds private screenings (for members only) of first-run movies. The selection of films is tempered in part by availability from our suppliers, who have needs and priorities of their own.

RESERVATIONS

Our present procedure allows the opportunity to make reservations for two on the Thursday evening before the weekend screening(s). Reservations times will generally be 6 pm to 9 pm when we have two showings, and between 6 pm and 8 pm (or whenever we're full) when there is a single screening. Call 985-5735. There may be times when a screening will be completely filled . . . we are sorry when this happens, and are working on various plans, such as alphabetical restrictions, which will be announced.

Even with a reservation number, your seat will only be held until 10 minutes before announced screening time. This will allow those on the waiting list (when there is one) to be seated while the lights are still on, and cut down on unwelcome interruptions as the film begins. We feel that this is an equitable method of dealing with the constantly changing needs of our membership, and hope you agree.

Usually, the Film Club information can be found in your current Folio. However, information about upcoming films may not be confirmed by the Folio press deadline. There are two other ways this information is made available to you: 1) Listen to KPFK 90.7 FM at 9 am, 6 pm and midnight to hear Film Club announcements; 2) Send a pack of plain, regulation-size, self-addressed stamped postal cards to KPFK (currently 13 cents).

Please note: Please do not call 985-5735 on Film Club business at any other times. This line is used for call-in programs and pledging during fund drives exclusively, except for the announced Film Club reservation hours. (The station's regular business lines are 877-2711 and 984-2711). 985-5735 is not connected to the station switchboard.

It is critical that no reservations calls come in before 6 pm, as you will either go on the air when you do not intend to, or interfere with our receiving donations from other listeners. Thank you for your cooperation.

Here's to seeing you at the movies!
